CISA: Innovation, security, efficiency
The strategic brand of Allegion is exhibiting at SICUREZZA Milano 2017

Faenza, 25 October 2017. CISA, the top brand for locking and access control systems in all buildings, will be exhibiting at the SICUREZZA Milano 2017 trade fair from 15 to 17 November in Hall 7, stand E21-F24. Visitors to CISA's stand will be able to try and test the company's latest mechanical and mechatronic solutions, displayed by building type, first-hand.

Loris Monducci, Sales Director Italy underlines "CISA, a member of the Allegion group, designs solutions to make the world a safer place where people live, work and visit. Our brand is distributed in over 70 countries, we have registered more than 70 patents in the past couple of years and we have over 300 specialised centres throughout Italy. Our team of experts works with security managers, builders and designers on a daily basis, coming up with security projects that meet all needs from A to Z".

CISA solutions are designed to manage and control any type of access (outside and inside doors, openings, outdoor gates, ...) for homes, businesses, public buildings, companies and commercial environments. It also creates systems which ensure safe egress to everyone, even those with reduced mobility, in the event of danger or difficulty. Every project begins with a detailed study of the client's needs and culminates in the creation of a complete solution which can be controlled by any kind of credential: mechanical keys, contactless, dematerialised and mobile credentials.

For the residential sector, CISA will be presenting MyEVO, the motorised lock for armoured doors with smart automatic closing, and Multitop MAX, the lock which offers additional unbeatable mechanical features and is also available in an electric version, so it can be integrated with other accesses. The offering is completed by AP4S, the new key and cylinder system which complies with EN1303:15, achieving the highest security level in each segment: key related security, attack resistance and durability.

For public buildings, CISA will be presenting eFAST Polaris, the motorised panic exit device with emergency lights. This product, voted the most innovative solution by visitors to COLFERT EXPO (Venice, Pala Expo, 29 September - 1 October 2017), is equipped with a system of LED lights which can be connected to a power supply with back-up batteries and comes on the moment power fails. This solution makes finding the emergency exit a lot easier when visibility is low due to the presence of smoke.

This year CISA will be exhibiting at SICUREZZA with SimonsVoss, another of Allegion's strategic brands, presenting its solutions alongside the latest innovations from the German brand. As well as CISA's mechatronic solutions, SimonsVoss will be showcasing MobileKey, a product with an electronic cylinder which is easy to configure using a web app. This integrated system for businesses replaces mechanical keys with a digital transponder, keypad or smartphone.

About CISA ©

CISA was established in Florence in 1926, thanks to the insight of Luigi Bucci who invented and patented the first electric lock. CISA joined Allegion in 2013, a global group with a turnover of $2 billion, of which over $480 million in the EMEA region (Europe, Middle East, India and Africa) where CISA is located (2016 figures). The success of the Italian brand is confirmed in its numbers: it has registered more than 70 patents over the years, it distributes in 70 countries and has a workforce of over 600 at its headquarters in Faenza (RA) and in the factory in Monsampolo (AP), which produces 26 million keys and 8 million cylinders every year.
